"Vidya Bharati Alumni In Social Service"

Vidya Bharati Alumni From Gujarat, Jaydipsinh Jadeja Shares His Journey Of Fifteen Years Of Social Service

Working for Social benefit and advancement for one's country has no age restrictions, nor are they bound by finances spent. All that requires is good intentions, dedication and willingness to serve.

Most Vidya Bharati alumni get involved with some kind of social/ civil service from a very young age and carry on the good work throughout their life. One such exemplary individual is Vidya Bharati alumnus Jaydipsinh Jadeja of Shree Sarasvati Vidya Mandir, Madhav Nagar, Babavadi, Gujrat. Hailing from the Mandvi in Kutch district of Gujarat, Jaydipsinh Jadeja (2013 batch) did his schooling from Vidya Bharati and then got admitted to Parul University, Vadodara, where he is presently pursuing his B.Pharm degree.

Although a student, Jaydipsinh has experience of working in the social sector for more than 15 years. From a very young age he had the urge to help others and change his society for the better. As per his own words he 'always wanted to be a sponge which can absorb all negativity from the people who are seeking for help and wanted to emit beautiful positive vibes'. He felt that the most impact can be achieved by a structured approach towards social service and thus set up his own NGO along with his friend, which he named 'HUMAN - BEING'. Through the NGO he raised awareness on health, hygiene and sanitation. He took the help of local doctors for this purpose as well, because they were well respected and people would listen to them. He also ran campaigns on the importance of environmental protection.

Later he had to shift from his locality due to his studies to Vadodara, and it was here that he came into contact with 'Akhil Bharatiya Vidyarthi Parishad' and became an active member of the organisation. This move helped him to scale up his social activities and reach out to a bigger and wider beneficiary base. He started taking an active role within the context of the organisation and divides his time among its various social projects. In 2020 his work was appreciated and he became a 'State Executive Member'

Jaydipsinh has been working for the benefit of the society for the past 15 years. He has been a volunteer with the 'Sangh' for 8 years and the last 3 years has been dedicated towards his NGO and ABVP. According to Jaydipsinh, now he hardly remembers a time when he was not associated with any social work or the other.

For his service and nationalistic oriented mindframe, he gave most of the credit to his school and the values that was imbibed in him by his teachers since childhood. For him the national heroes are his inspiration. He also expressed his gratitude towards his family for allowing him to study under Vidya Bharati.

Vidya Bharati Alumni, Sri Omveer Singh Narrates How His Personal Struggle Led Him To Open An Ngo In Order To Help Students Reach Their Educational Goals

'In life some give up in the face of difficulties and some learn from those difficulties and create a better world'.

India being a developing country and having a large population below or just above the poverty line, many brilliant minds fail to reach their true potential due to lack of finances. Good students are lost as they are unable to complete their education. In such a scenario it becomes the responsibility of individuals and NGOs to lend a helping hand to the government in order to assist young minds to reach their goals in life.

Hailing from a farming family from a village in Bulandshahr in Uttar Pradesh, Vidya Bharati alumni, Sri Omveer Singh had witnessed the financial difficulties that his father had to undergo to educate him and his brothers. It was this struggle that urged Sri Omveer Singh to start his own NGO that would help students from financially weak backgrounds.

Sri Omveer Singh is an alumnus of Suraj Bhan Saraswati Vidya Mandir Inter College, from where he had passed his class 12 board examination. After completion of his schooling, he did his BSc in Biology from Chaudhary Charan Singh University, Meerut. As he was a first-hand witness of the financial struggle that many students face towards completion of their education, Sri Omveer Singh decided to start his own NGO that would help such students.

In 2011, he founded the NGO 'Sarvjan Kalyan Kendra' that primarily worked in skill development among the youths to make them job market ready, but slowly branched out to include several social projects in the field of environment and health as well. Presently due to Covid 19 pandemic, the team of 'Sarvjan Kalyan Kendra' is also helping by providing grocery and medication to the people in need.

Alongside running his NGO Sri Omveer Singh is also pursuing his degree in MSW from Uttarakhand instead of other English medium schools where his friends had admitted their children.

As a concluding message he urged all Vidya Bharati students to always respect their teachers and parents and try to follow the path shown by them.

On being asked for his suggestions to students who want to pursue their career in social work, Sri Omveer Singh pointed out that this sector has a lot of hurdles, but if one is truly passionate about social service, the work can be extremely satisfying as well. One gets ample opportunity to work with different sectors of people and help them during their time of need.

Speaking about his experience in his school, Sri Omveer Singh said that the defining feature that sets Vidya Bharati schools apart is the culture and 'Sanskars' that each student receives from their teachers. As he is aware of the life changing benefits of such teaching himself, he had decided to get his child admitted to Vidya Bharati school as well,
